

B. For each pair of the following sentences form a compound sentence by joining the two independent clauses with a coordinator that best fits the meaning. Use each FAN BOYS coordinator once. Write your new sentences on a separate sheet of paper, and punctuate them correctly. The first one has been done for you as an example.

1. Nuclear accidents can happen. Nuclear power plants must have strict safety controls.

Nuclear accidents can happen, so nuclear power plants must have strict safety controls.

2. The accident at the nuclear power plant at Three Mile Island in the United States created fears about the safety of this energy source. The disaster at Chernobyl in the former Soviet Union confirmed them.
3. Solar heating systems are economical to operate. The cost of installation is very high.
4. Energy needs are not going to decrease. Energy sources are not going to increase. (Use nor and question word order in the second clause, deleting the word not).
5. Burning fossil fuels causes serious damage to our planet. We need to develop other sources of energy.
6. Ecologists know that burning fossil fuels causes holes in the ozone layer. People continue to do it.
7. Developing nations especially will continue this harmful practice. They do not have the money to develop “clean” energy sources.
8. All nations of the world must take action. Our children and grandchildren will suffer the consequences.

C. Write seven compound sentences of your own, using each coordinator once.

Compound Sentences with Conjunctive Adverbs

A second way to form a compound sentence is as follows:

Independent clause; + conjunctive adverb, + independent clause

Salt water boils at a higher temperature than freshwater; therefore, food cooks faster in salt water.

Punctuation note: Put a semicolon before and a comma after the conjunctive adverb.

Several transition signals, such as on the other hand, as a result, and for example, act like conjunctive adverbs; they can also connect independent clauses with a semicolon and a comma. The following chart lists common conjunctive adverbs and a few transition signals that can be used in this way.

PRACTICE 5Compound
Sentences with Conjunctive
Adverbs

- A. Form compound sentences by adding a second independent clause to each independent clause. Be sure to add a complete clause containing a subject and a verb. Circle the conjunctive adverb and add punctuation. Some of these sentences are from Practice 4A on page 167. The first one has been done for you as an example.

1. The college campus is located in the center of the city; therefore, it is very easy to get there by public transportation.
2. According to the Big Bang Theory, the universe began expanding about 13.7 billion years ago moreover _____
3. Students must pay their tuition and fees before they register for classes otherwise _____
4. Scientists predict that intelligent life exists somewhere in the universe however _____
5. Mars probes have photographed rocks with water markings on them nevertheless _____
6. My roommate scored high on the English placement test as a result _____
7. Tuition and fees increase every year for example _____
8. The class thought the teacher would give a test last Friday instead _____

- B. On a separate sheet of paper, combine the pairs of sentences in items 3, 5, 6, and 8 from Practice 4B on page 168, using conjunctive adverbs instead of coordinators. Punctuate your new sentences correctly. The first one has been done for you as an example.

1. Nuclear accidents can happen. Nuclear power plants must have strict safety controls.
Nuclear accidents can happen; therefore, nuclear power plants must have strict safety controls.

- C. Write five compound sentences, using each of these conjunctive adverbs once: in addition, nevertheless, on the other hand, therefore, and for instance.

Compound Sentences with Semicolons

A third way to form a compound sentence is to connect the two independent clauses with a semicolon alone:

INDEPENDENT CLAUSE

Poland was the first Eastern European country to turn away from communism;

INDEPENDENT CLAUSE

others soon followed.

This kind of compound sentence is possible only when the two independent clauses are closely related in meaning. If they are not closely related, they should be written as two simple sentences, each ending with a period.

PRACTICE 6

Compound Sentences with Semicolons

- A. Place a semicolon between the two independent clauses in the following compound sentences.
1. The practice of yoga strengthens the body and promotes flexibility it also strengthens the mind and refreshes the soul.
 2. Motherhood causes some women to quit their jobs others continue working despite having young children to care for.
 3. Three hundred guests attended his wedding two attended his funeral.
- B. On a separate sheet of paper, write three compound sentences of your own, using a semicolon to join the independent clauses.

PRACTICE 7

Editing Practice

Use what you have learned about forming compound sentences to improve the following mini-essay, which contains many short, simple sentences. Combine sentences wherever possible. Try to use each of the three methods at least once. There are many possible ways to combine sentences.

Robots

¹A robot is a mechanical device that can perform boring, dangerous, and difficult tasks. ²First of all, robots can perform repetitive tasks without becoming tired or bored. ³They are used in automobile factories to weld and paint. ⁴Robots can also function in hostile environments. ⁵They are useful for exploring the ocean bottom as well as deep outer space. ⁶Finally, robots can perform tasks requiring pinpoint accuracy. ⁷In the operating room, robotic equipment can assist the surgeon. ⁸For instance, a robot can kill a brain tumor. ⁹It can operate on a fetus with great precision.

¹⁰The field of artificial intelligence is giving robots a limited ability to think and to make decisions. ¹¹However, robots cannot think conceptually. ¹²Robots cannot function independently. ¹³Humans have to program them. ¹⁴They are useless. [Use otherwise to combine sentences 13 and 14.] ¹⁵Therefore, humans should not worry that robots will take over the world—at least not yet.

Complex Sentences

A complex sentence contains one independent clause and one (or more) dependent clause(s). In a complex sentence, one idea is generally more important than the other. We place the more important idea in the independent clause and the less important idea in the dependent clause.

There are three kinds of dependent clauses: adverb, adjective, and noun. You will study all of these kinds of clauses in greater detail in Chapters 12, 13, and 14.

Complex Sentences with Adverb Clauses

An adverb clause acts like an adverb; that is, it tells where, when, why, and how. An adverb clause begins with a subordinator, such as when, while, because, although, if, so, or that. It can come before or after an independent clause.

Although women in the United States could own property, they could not vote until 1920.

DEPENDENT ADVERB CLAUSE INDEPENDENT CLAUSE

A citizen can vote in the United States when he or she is 18 years old.

INDEPENDENT CLAUSE DEPENDENT ADVERB CLAUSE

Complex Sentences with Adjective Clauses

An adjective clause acts like an adjective; that is, it describes a noun or pronoun. An adjective clause begins with a relative pronoun, such as who, whom, which, whose, or that, or with a relative adverb, such as where or when. It follows the noun or pronoun it describes.

Men who are not married are called bachelors.

DEPENDENT
ADJECTIVE CLAUSE

Last year we vacationed in Cozumel, which features excellent scuba diving.

DEPENDENT ADJECTIVE CLAUSE

Complex Sentences with Noun Clauses

A noun clause begins with a wh- question word, that, whether, and sometimes if. A noun clause acts like a noun; it can be either the subject or an object of the independent clause.

That there is a hole in the ozone layer of Earth's atmosphere is well known.

DEPENDENT NOUN CLAUSE

Scientists know what caused it.

DEPENDENT
NOUN CLAUSE

In the first example, That there is a hole in the ozone layer of Earth's atmosphere is the subject of the verb is. In the second example, what caused it is the object of the verb know.

PRACTICE 8

Complex Sentences

- A. Step 1 Underline the independent clause of each sentence with a solid line.
- Step 2 Underline the dependent clause with a broken line. One sentence has two dependent clauses.
- Step 3 Write Sub. above the subordinator. Refer to the list of subordinators on page 163.

The first one has been done for you as an example.

Sub.

1. Because the cost of education is rising, many students must work part-time.
2. When students from other countries come to the United States, they often suffer from culture shock.
3. Because financial aid is difficult to obtain, many students have to work part-time.
4. Please tell me where the student union is.
5. Engineers, who have an aptitude for drafting and mechanics, must also be artistic and imaginative.
6. While the contractor follows the blueprint, the engineer checks the construction in progress.
7. Since the blueprint presents the details of the engineer's plans, it must be interpreted accurately by the contractor.
8. Students should declare a major by their junior year unless they have not made up their minds.
9. Even though students declare a major now, they can change it later.
10. The government says that inflation is holding steady.
11. Economists are concerned that the rate of inflation will double if the government does not take immediate steps to control it.

B. Step 1 Add a logical independent clause to each of the dependent clauses.

Step 2 Punctuate each sentence correctly.

The first one has been done for you as an example.

1. I cannot register for classes until I pay my tuition.
2. Unless I take 12 units each term _____.
3. _____ that computer engineering is a popular major.
4. _____ who taught this course last term?
5. Because I had to look for a part-time job _____.
6. _____ if I want to get to school on time.
7. _____ whether I should take advanced calculus.
8. _____ whom I met at the math club meeting last week.
9. When I left my country _____.
10. _____ that my college adviser recommends.

Compound-Complex Sentences

A Compound-complex sentence has at least three clauses, at least two of which are independent. You can use almost any combination of dependent and independent clauses. Just be sure that there is at least one independent clause. In the following examples, independent clauses are underlined with a solid line and dependent clauses with a dotted line.

1. I wanted to travel after I graduated from college; however, I had to go to work immediately.
2. After I graduated from college, I wanted to travel, but I had to go to work immediately.
3. I wanted to travel after I graduated from college, but I had to go to work immediately because I had to support my family.
4. I could not decide where I should work or what I should do, so at first I did nothing.

Punctuate the compound part of a compound-complex sentence like a compound sentence; that is, use a semicolon/comma combination (sentence 1), or put a comma before a coordinator joining two independent clauses (sentences 2, 3, and 4).

Punctuate the complex part like a complex sentence. With adverb clauses, put a comma after a dependent adverb clause (sentence 2) but not before it (sentence 3). With noun clauses (sentence 4), use no commas.

Punctuate the following sentences.

PRACTICE 9

Punctuation

Step 1 Underline the independent clauses with a solid line and the dependent clauses with a broken line.

Step 2 Add commas and/or semicolons as necessary.

1. Information and communication technology is reaching out to help people in the poorest countries improve their lives for example fishermen on the Bay of Bengal can now receive online weather reports that tell them when it is safe to go out.
2. Furthermore, when the fishermen bring in a boatload of fish they can find out the current market prices for their fish, which will help them bargain with the middlemen to whom they sell their catch.
3. The cost of the cheapest computer is at least $200 and since this is more than an individual fisherman can afford several fishing villages together can pool their money and buy one to share.
4. The worldwide reach of the Internet is also providing employment opportunities in developing countries and as greater numbers of people learn the technology these opportunities will expand.
5. When you call your U.S. bank you may find yourself speaking to a customer service representative who is sitting in the Philippines or Puerto Rico and when you need technical support for your home computer you will probably get help from a programmer in New Delhi.
